

99.connection

"A hidden connection is stronger than an obvious one." - Heraclitus of Ephesus

Even if you feel as though there is no one who understands you, no one who is like you, no one who will help you right here, right now, think again.

You are connected to everyone, everything on this planet, in this galaxy, in this universe. Check out some quantum theory if you don't believe it.

If Facebook, MySpace or other online networks don't work, after you've exhausted your village, town or city, try looking at the stars.

Picture your doppelganger on Betelgeuse and send some good vibes. You'll start a chain reaction. Suddenly, there is someone who understands you and someone who will help you.

